A RESIDENCE SPACE

platform05 is an Artist in Residence Space located in Beppu (Kyushu, South Japan). The space can be used for daily or short-term residence's projects. The residency space is a Japanese house called "Nagaya" (row house). "Nagaya" is the traditional form of urban housing in Japan dating back several hundred years.

platform05 is a space of possibilities. It is a stimulating environment for artists and creators who would like to take time to develop and nurture their ideas. Located at the heart of a middle-size city, platform05 is like a window opened on a place full of tradition, history and with a time passing by at a different rhythm. Also the natural feature of the city with tones of hot spring water sprouting from the ground, makes it a very special place. The introduction of contemporary art in this place turns out to be really strong. That is why platform05 is a very unique and important space for the artists and creation. The residence is offering an ideal time and space for the time of research and for giving birth to emerging ideas.

Artists who created in this space:

Mihajlo Jevtic & Jelena Krneta, "Slow Days in Beppu" (film, 2013)

Elodie Dornand & Seung-Hwan Oh, "Paper Graffiti, A course of Evanescence" (visual art, 2013)

Ito Zone, "Mimic of Beppu" (installation, 2012)

R Collective, "Katamari" (visual art, 2010)

Lani Maestro, "Higugma (息. Breath)" (visual art, 2009)

etc...
